Boosters To Fete P. H. S. Hoop Squad

Punchard high's basketball team which went through the regular season undefeated will be guests of the Boosters' club at a banquet in the school cafeteria at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, Mar. 28.

The 1951 squad, first to compile such a record in the history of Punchard, also entered the Eastern Massachusetts schoolboy tournament for the fifth year and went into the semi-finals before being eliminated.

Besides having the members of the squad as guests the Boosters will also present each with a jacket finished in the school colors.

An interesting entertainment program is being arranged. Men and women are invited to attend. Tickets are available and may be obtained from members, the local drug stores and the Andover News Store.

Andover chapter of the Red Cross maintained its fine record of recruiting blood donations for servicemen in the Korean conflict and for the emergency stockpile.

During the visit of the blood mobile which has just been completed, Andover donated 206 pints of blood, one day at the Shawsheen Mills and two days at the South church.

This fine showing was accomplished in spite of the great handicap of an unprecedented amount of sickness, and although below the quota set earlier, was an exceptionally high mark to attain at this time.

Among the donors during the three-day visit were the following: (Continued on Page Seven)

Expect Big Crowd For Egg Hunt

Good weather Saturday afternoon is expected to bring a record crowd to the park where the annual Easter egg hunt will be conducted under the auspices of the Andover Recreation committee and several cooperating organizations.

In the event of rain the hunt will be postponed for a week as the committee feels that it would be impossible to conduct it indoors.

There will be 12,000 pieces of candy for the youngsters to find, some of them bearing notes which will entitle the finder to larger prizes.

One of the features of the program which will begin at 2 p.m., is that a space near the high school will be set off for the youngsters where they can have an egg hunt of their own.

Spring Is Here; Temperature Drops

Robins and bluebirds, sure harbingers of spring, made their appearance several days ago according to local observers, and spring arrived officially at 5:26 a.m. Wednesday, Mar. 21. Despite these records of the passing of winter, the Old Farmer's Almanac warns, "Keep on your fur lined vest." Below-freezing temperatures Wednesday morning proved the warning to be sound.

Students To Hold Two - Day Bazaar

Students of Punchard and the junior high school will sponsor a two-day bazaar and festival to be held in the central school buildings Apr. 13 and 14.

Donald D. Dunn is serving as chairman and it is expected that several of the town's organizations will cooperate.

There will be many booths offering a wide variety of articles for sale. Card games, lunches and some popular entertainment and music will also be available.

The purpose of the bazaar is to raise funds to support the many extra curricular activities not otherwise provided for in the school budget. They are both athletic and non-athletic.

The expenses of such activities have mounted steadily in recent years and have become increasingly impossible for a small group of students or single class to carry the whole burden.

This is the first time that the schools have united in their efforts to support the activities program.

New School Contracts To Be Awarded Soon

Advocates Park In Carmel Wood

A proposal for the town to use Carmel woods as a recreational area was presented to the board of selectmen Monday night by Victor J. Mill of Elm st.

The possibilities of establishing a park in the area was discussed at some length and the board planned to take a view of the woods in the near future.

Approval of the appointment of Hartwell B. Abbot as inspector of animals was received from the state department of agriculture. The term expires Mar. 31, 1952.

The application of Carmelita Bellia of Greenwood rd. for a license to store gasoline in an underground tank of 200 gallons was approved.

Kenneth E. Wade of High st., Ballardvale, was drawn to serve as a juror at the session of superior civil court opening Apr. 16 at Newburyport.

Sportsmen's Club To Present Revue

The Andover Sportsmen's club will present its 1951 Talent Revue at the Memorial auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Apr. 3.

Many local favorites will appear in the hour and a half show which will be followed by dancing.

Among the entertainers are Chris Murphy, Cathie Farragher, John Campbell, Virginia Snyder, Jane Simeone, Jacqueline Demers, John Farragher, Suzanne Wennik, Judy Wright and Margaret Campbell.

Bids received earlier this month on the two new elementary school buildings are being studied by the school building committee which is expected to announce award of the contract at any time now.

The committee has received bids from 14 general contractors on the West Center school, and from nine general contractors on the Central school. Some contractors submitted combined bids on both buildings. Several of the lower bids are within the $1,200,000 appropriation made for the new schools.

Among the lower bidders for construction of the Central school were: Carlson Construction Co., Watertown, $615,959; Joseph Rugo, Inc., Boston, $644,361; Walter L. Ritchie Co., Malden, $649,986.

Lower bidders on the West school were: Joseph Rugo, Inc., Boston, $348,992; Bagley-Mucci, Inc., Medford, $348,666; Morgan Construction Co., Cambridge, $352,647.

Combined low bidders on both schools: Carlson Construction Co., Watertown, $961,678; Joseph Rugo, Inc., Boston, $993,000; Walter L. Ritchie Co., Malden, $999,842.

Princess Clear Sky and Morning Star, Indian dancers, round out the program.

Information For Veterans

Q—My husband, a World War I veteran, is drawing a VA pension for nonservice-connected total disability. He has a yearly income of $2,000, while I have a personal income of around $600. When he reports his annual income to VA, does he include my $600 along with his, or does he just mention his own money?

A—He reports only his own income to VA. Your income has no bearing on his rights.

Q—A friend of mine served in World War II and received an honorable discharge. After the war, he reenlisted and was later discharged dishonorably. Will he be entitled to GI Bill benefits?

A—Yes, on the basis of the military service for which he obtained an honorable discharge.

Q—I have just been discharged from service, and I want to keep my National Service life insurance in good shape. I would like some tips on the best way to handle premium payments.

A—The safest way to pay your premiums is by money order or check. Do not send cash through the mail. Also, be sure to use the printed return envelope VA sends you regularly; then you'll know your premium won't be misdirected. Most important of all, pay your premiums on time.

Q—I obtained a GI home loan, and authorized the lender to apply VA's four percent gratuity toward reducing the principal of the loan. Now I find myself unable to meet my payments. May the lender re-apply the gratuity toward the payments I can't meet, and thus prevent a possible foreclosure?

A—Yes. It is legally proper to re-apply gratuity initially credited toward the principal, if it's for the purpose of preventing or curing a default.

Q—I am permanently and totally disabled for reasons not traceable to my World War II military service. Am I eligible for training under Public Law 16?

A—No. However, if you meet eligibility requirements for GI Bill training, you may take your training under that law.

When he reports his annual income to VA, does he include my $600 along with his, or does he just mention his own money?

A—He reports only his own income to VA. Your income has no bearing on his rights.

Q—A friend of mine served in World War II and received an honorable discharge. After the war, he reenlisted and was later discharged dishonorably. Will he be entitled to GI Bill benefits?

A—Yes, on the basis of the military service for which he obtained an honorable discharge.

Q—I have just been discharged from service, and I want to keep my National Service life insurance in good shape. I would like some tips on the best way to handle premium payments.

A—The safest way to pay your premiums is by money order or check. Do not send cash through the mail. Also, be sure to use the printed return envelope VA sends you regularly; then you'll know your premium won't be misdirected. Most important of all, pay your premiums on time.

Q—I obtained a GI home loan, and authorized the lender to apply VA's four percent gratuity toward reducing the principal of the loan. Now I find myself unable to meet my payments. May the lender re-apply the gratuity toward the payments I can't meet, and thus prevent a possible foreclosure?

A—Yes. It is legally proper to re-apply gratuity initially credited toward the principal, if it's for the purpose of preventing or curing a default.

Q—I am permanently and totally disabled for reasons not traceable to my World War II military service. Am I eligible for training under Public Law 16?

A—No. However, if you meet eligibility requirements for GI Bill training, you may take your training under that law.

Checkrein On Tax Rate

Faced with mounting costs in all departments, commitments for two new elementary schools, increases to town employees, losses in revenue from the state, and other items that apply to the cost of government, town officials and voters have acted with commendable restraint to keep Andover's tax rate from soaring higher than the $3 to $5 estimate made by Roy E. Hardy, chairman of the board of assessors. The $2 leeway is due to the uncertain effect which the state old age assistance law will have upon the tax structure.

Coupled with growing costs of operation and salary increases, appropriations made at the town meeting for town departments was more than $80,000 higher than a year ago. This was offset in a large measure by the reduction in sums allotted for the special articles. Where a year ago $117,881 was voted for these projects only $46,972 was appropriated at the recent town meeting, a drop of more than $70,000.

To accomplish this, town officials pared estimates to the bone, and townspeople, following suggestions of the finance commission and the Andover Taxpayers' association, refrained from submitting articles other than those classed as absolutely essential.

The board of public works which usually has a large number of requests for highway, water and sewer work in all parts of the town, cut these to only a few of the most needed improvements, and also withdrew from the warrant some articles that had been deferred a year ago.

All concerned with town affairs cooperated in trying to keep the tax rate down, and while $3 is a fairly substantial increase the town this year is paying $50,000 toward its new schools, $40,000 for salary increases, and departments will not have to curtail any of the essential services they have given in past years.

If it were not for the extra $2 jump that the new state aid for the aged may bring the estimated increase would not loom so large in the face of existing conditions.

The greatest asset we have, the one which no enemy possesses, is the free American. Let us not weaken him by a set of second-rate totalitarian controls and restrictions.—

INTERNATIONAL WHIRLIGIG — By John Fisher

Reds Use Iran Assassination To Stir Up More Turmoil

Explosive events since the assassination of the pre-Western Ali Razmara have made Iran an even greater danger than ever before.

While he was slain by a member of a fanatical religious organization, the Fadayan (Crusaders of Islam), the native Communists and their Russian agents are making the most of the trouble, trying to stir up political and economic unrest on top of religious strife.

Hussein Ala, who was hurriedly named to premiership, is also a good friend of the Western Powers, especially of the United States. He was formerly Iranian ambassador to Washington, where he made many friends, and he handled Iran's case against Soviet Russia.

Life in Danger

However, Hussein Ala is not regarded as strong and dynamic as the slain Ali Razmara, although the stress of events may harden him. One of his first tasks must be the safeguarding of his own life—against religious fanatics, Communists and Russian agents.

Russia has gained by the turmoil already created and can make further gains if it can keep the people and the state apprehensive and tumultuous. Stalin now knows that he cannot seize Yugoslavia or Turkey without war—maybe world war. But in the confusion in Iran, unless Hussein Ala keep a rendezvous with destiny, Stalin may grab Persia without advancing a single soldier, firing a shot or arousing civil war.

"Silver bullets," a curse of Asia, may bribe corrupt members of the Majlis (parliament). Mobs, inflamed by Reds over nationalization of oil and other anti-foreigner issues, may so pressure the government of bewildered, young Shah Reza Pahlevi, that Moscow might snatch as complete control of its weak neighbor as it now has of European satellites.

Could Gain Valuable Oil

A whole series of local laws, trade treaties and concessions favorable to the Kremlin could give the Soviet Union full access to the Iranian oil fields—the world's fourth largest petroleum deposits, exceeded only by the United States, Venezuela and the U. S. S. R.

With Russia as top dog at Tehran, she could arrange a devastating embargo on Europe's oil resources. Two thirds of Western Europe's entire supply come from the fields a few hundred miles of the Persian Gulf.

Iran is a coveted prize for Stalin. Through this small country Russia could reach warm water ports. But the chief lure is Persia's huge petroleum fields and refineries with a current production of more than 25 million tons a year.

Oil has played a star role in Persian history—for good and ill. In ancient days the priests of Zoroaster kept the "eternal flame" burning by cleverly building temples over oil and gas springs and piping natural gas to their altars.

The modern impact of oil began in 1901. William D'Arcy, a British engineer, was granted exclusive rights for exploration and exploitation in the entire land except the northern provinces. This concession was to run for 60 years.

The current English giant, stemming from D'Arcy, is the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, 59 per cent of which is owned by the British government. It has been paying Tehran 20 million pounds annually in royalties. But the Shah's ministers were not satisfied because they maintain that little is left to the government after the virtually "free" oil allotment to the British navy and the deduction of British taxes.

New Pact Was Near

Razmara was negotiating a new agreement. Had the pact been ratified by the Majlis, it would have yielded 40 million pounds a year. The prime minister had been against nationalization because he believed that it would eliminate four-fifths of Iran's foreign revenues and destroy thousands of jobs.

His stand on oil was partly the cause of his death. The Moslem group, to which the slayer belongs had savagely objected to the premier's opposition to government ownership. Since the assassination this Fadayan clique and known leftists have picked up votes in parliament favoring nationalization.

Up to now the United States has been influential in Persian affairs. Three of the Shah's brothers attended Harvard, Princeton and Michigan university, respectively. His sister, Princess Asha, a leader in the Iranian Red Cross, and the Shah, himself visited America in 1949, the first reigning monarch of the Middle East ever to come to the U. S. A. Razmara's brother, Reza Razmara, an electrical engineer, lives in Boston.

A Delaware corporation in 1937 received oil concessions which it later relinquished. Specialists from 11 American engineering firms laid out the Seven-Year Plan in 1950 for raising the standard of living by developing irrigation, health and education. Razmara was trying to revive this economic reform but was blocked by rich landlords, tribal chiefs and bureaucrats.

Moscow Moved Faster

The Shah sought financial aid in Washington but was disappointed in the size of the pledges. He was given $500,000 for technical assistance under the "Point-Four" development program. A $25,000,000 loan from the Export-Import Bank is still delayed by red tape. Razmara later offended Washington by concluding a $20,000,000 trade pact with Moscow, directly after receiving the promise of the American loan.

INTERNATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

His American apologists explain that he had been compelled to walk the neutral tight rope because his weak country was on the threshold of mighty Russia.

The Soviet Union always uses trade arrangements as the first step in political infiltration. It has set up eight trade and transportation offices in northern Iran. A friend who has just flown in from the Middle East told me, "Iran is filled with Russians. They don't have to take the country; they're already there."

The Shah, however, has strong, personal reasons for hating Russia. A Moscow-instigated revolt of Azerbaijan frontier tribes in 1945 might have cost him his crown if Razmara, then a field general, had not put down the rebellion. On Feb. 4, 1949, a member of the Tudeh (Communist) Party fired three shots at the "King of Kings," hitting his hat, grazing his shoulder and slashing his lip.

His Good Looks Spared

When he visited Washington in October of that year, one of his staff informed me that the feature of his escape for which the handsome Shah was most thankful was that a skilled surgeon prevented the wound from leaving a permanent scar.

As a result of this attack the Tudeh Party was outlawed. But it has used Red fronts to protest against the "barbarous bombing of Korea." It boasted that its peace drive forced the government to abandon plans to send troops to Korea. It charged that the Razmara cabinet was "lackeys of American wire-pullers." After the assassination leftist crowds stormed the U. S. embassy shouting, "Death to MacArthur."

Persian oil has become a devil's brew which may boil over again with even more disastrous consequences.

Republicans Plan
Drive For Funds

Local Republicans this coming week will start the first move to raise a "war chest" for a continuous battle for Republican principles and a higher type of morals in politics, which they hope will end in the election of a Republican President in 1952.

A finance committee chairman for this district will be suggested to the Massachusetts Republican finance committee to head the "First Annual Canvass" for funds from rank-and-file Republicans all over the state, scheduled to begin in May.

The idea of annual subscriptions originated with Richard Preston of Hamilton, 38-year old World War II veteran and newly appointed chairman of the Massachusetts Republican finance committee. The plan is to raise enough money every spring, including off-years, to finance continuous G. O. P. organization, information and legislative activities.

SHAWSHEEN

Mrs. Helen Caswell, Correspondent, Telephone 62

Shawsheen PTA

The Shawsheen PTA met at the school hall last Wednesday evening with Walter Davis, president, presiding. The attendance banner was won by Miss Leary's second grade. Mr. Davis announced that the school patrol leaders would be rewarded for their excellent work during the year by being given a trip to a baseball game in Boston sometime in the future. Arthur McCabe, the scheduled speaker, was unable to be present, so Mr. Davis told the group something about his recent trip to England. Refreshments were served by the first grade and kindergarten mothers, under the direction of Mrs. Paul McKinnon, Mrs. Arnold Wiener, Mrs. John Ebhardt and Mrs. William Dreyer.

Camp Fire Girls

The Siguan and Tawanka groups of camp fire girls under the leadership of their guardians, Mrs. Alan Dunlop, Mrs. Rudolph Dietrich, Mrs. Walter Caswell, and Mrs. Albert Hahenstein conducted a very successful sale table at the PTA meeting last Wednesday evening. They offered hand craft articles of felt and leather, dolls, home bakery, fudge and camp fire mints and their wares were well received. They are very grateful to all who contributed so generously. The proceeds will be used to further their project work and camping trips.

Woman's Club

The biggest hoax of the year was played upon the members of the dramatic department of the Shawsheen Village Woman's club last Friday afternoon when they met at the home of Mrs. Thomas Thomas Sutton on Wildwood rd. It had been announced that a group of pantomimers from Providence, R. I. would present the afternoon's program. Mrs. William Edwards, substituting for the "absent" reader, read the script of "All for dear aunt Matilda", and to the surprise and delight of the audience, Marion Young, Marcia Wilkinson, Evelyn Sutton and Priscilla Bowman, under the assumed names, presented an extremely funny skit. The surprise element was one of the contributing factors to the success of the play.

During the business meeting, plans were made for the group to attend a theatre performance, in place of the next regular meeting. Dessert and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Charles Bowman, Mrs. Gilbert Cate, Mrs. Charles McCullom and Mrs. Preston Blake.

Current Events

The Current Events department of the S.V.W.C. met at the Andover Inn last Wednesday morning and heard Frederick Allis Jr. of the Phillips academy faculty speak on the timely subject of wages and price control. Morning coffee was served with Mrs. G. Edgar Best as pourer.

Shower

Miss Gladys Cairns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cairns, 38 Corbett st., was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower held recently at the home of Mrs. John Hewitt, 7 George st. Miss Cairns will become the bride of Edward Simpson of Lowell in a ceremony May 5 at St. Augustine's church. A buffet lunch was served by the hostess.

Those present were: Felice Pomereau, Judith Colmer, Janet Durling, Jane Galley, Joan Galley, Judith and Gail Marland, Marcia and Mildred Tangney, Jane Henrick, Carol Michalski, Shirley, Barbara and Janet Cairns, Mary Ann Hewitt and Mrs. Hewitt.

Ways and Means Committee

The ways and means committee of the S.V.W.C. met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. G. Edgar Best Monday evening, to complete plans for the summer fashion show. The "Sun Style Festival" will be held in the Shawsheen school hall at 8 p.m. Monday, Apr. 16. Mrs. Frank Stevenson and Mrs. John Guild will have charge of ticket sales. Mrs. Hiram Young and Mrs. Thomas Sutton will be in charge of refreshments and Mrs. Frederick Bradley will be decorations chairman.

Dessert and coffee were served by the hostess and those present included Mrs. Sherman Locke, Mrs. Charles Bowman, Mrs. Walter Caswell, Mrs. Walter Curtis, Mrs. Hiram Young, Mrs. Andrew Innes, Mrs. Frank Stevenson, Mrs. Gilbert Cate, Mrs. Harold Haller, Mrs. Wallace Fiedler, Mrs. Best and Ruth Hammond who chose some of the club members to act as models.

Auto Inspection Here Next Month

The first periodic inspection of motor vehicles for 1951 which takes place in the month of April is announced by Rudolph F. King, registrar of motor vehicles.

Every motor vehicle registered in the commonwealth prior to May 1 and which is operated on the highways at any time during the month of April must pass inspection and have the new black April 1951 inspection sticker displayed on the windshield by May 1.

This sticker is to be placed in the lower right-hand corner of the windshield and in no other place. Baby shoes, dicker birds and anything else that might be attached to the inside of the windshield to interfere with the operator's vision must also be removed.

Registrar King estimated that by May 1 there will be over 1,300,000 vehicles on Massachusetts highways.

RECEIVES COMBAT BADGE

PFC. Francis M. Winters, son of Mrs. Margaret Winters, 17 Baker lane, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman's badge in Korea while serving with the 5th Cavalry regiment.

This badge, which is only awarded frontline combat infantrymen, distinguishes the actual fighting man from the rear area and service troops in a combat zone.

Merrily they roll along, these members of the roller skating class at the Youth Center, enjoying all of the fun of countless swirls about the hall and stopping only long enough in their sport to smile pleasantly for our photographer. Roller skating can be great fun — if you stay on your feet. (Look Photo)

FORD WINS AGAIN!

V-8 TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A" 1951 MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN

Both Ford V-8 and SIX Deliver more than 25.9 miles per gallon

Gruelling 840-mile test proves Ford Economy

Again this year . . . it's high honors for Ford! In the most important economy trial for American stock model cars . . . the famous annual Mobilgas Economy Run . . . A Ford 100-h.p. V-8 equipped with Over-Run . . . took first place competing against all cars drive took first place making 54.587 ton-miles per gallon* and 25.994 miles per gallon. And its companion in quality, the new Ford SIX with Overdrive, was right up there with the winner. In fact, both cars averaged better than 25.9 miles per gallon.

Traditional Ford economy, for the second straight year, has been proved in open competition. Proved on the tough 840-mile grind from Los Angeles to the Grand Canyon . . . a course that included city traffic, below-sea-level desert heat and 7,000-foot mountain passes. Ford's Automatic Mileage Maker, standard equipment on all Ford V-8's and SIXES, contributed to this great achievement by squeezing the last mile out of every drop of gasoline.

Why not "Test Drive" the new Ford at your neighborhood Ford Dealer's? There's no better way to be convinced that "You can pay more but you can't buy better!"

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-mile per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles travelled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.
